A CHANCE FOR BACHELORS -Postmaster Rowland, of Sacramento, has received from Grand Rapids, Michigan, the following letter, which we give for the benefit of whom it may concern: "Grand Rapids, December 25th. 1864 .-A couple of ladies are anxious to open a correspondence with some gentlemen, with a view to matrimony. They are respectively aged twenty-six and twenty-four years; one a widow, without any children—the other a single lady. The gentleman must be one who can give good references, and have a gentlemanly bearing, pleasing appearance and worth some property. The ladies are anxious to go to California, and think this the surest way to get there. If any should see fit to answer this, they can address Mrs. Jenny Jones, Box 318 Grand Rapids, Kent county, Michigan, and Miss Minny Moore, Box 318, Grand Rapids, Michigan. As I saw in one of your papers that your State wanted 75,000 females, therefore I send this, and you can have it published. As I do not know the terms of publication, I will not send anything now; but, if published, and you will send me the amount, I will forward it to you. With respect, J. J., Box 318, Grand Rapids.

FRENCH PRIESTS FOR NEW MEXIco.-The Denver News of Feb. 2d says; "A party of ten or twelve young French priests, or unordained theologians, from an institution at Lyons, France, came in by yesterday's coaches from the States, en route to Santa Fe, where they are to engage in teaching, or be appointed to parishes, as the Bishop of New Mexico may direct. They appear to be smart young men, very genteel in their manners, like well bred Frenchmen generally. There is but one of the party who understands a single syllable of English. It seems somewhat strange to have a hierarchy of Frenchmen minister to a constituency that speak altogether Spanish, yet such is the case throughout New Mexico.

MUST BE A COPPERHEAD. - A young lady in attendance upon a school at Chico, Butte county, Cal., wrote as her composition, lately, some patriotic lines on Sherman's campaign, which she read. The teacher requested her not to write any such compositions in the school again, as he did not want such principles to be infused into the minds of his children and the school under his charge. The request not being such as the young lady could comply with, she exhibited proper resentment by leaving the school. That institution wants reorganizing, and the teacher should be relieved.

SUICIDE.—A Chinaman who had been in jail in Sierra county, Cal., for some months, for the murder of a countryman, strangled him-self lately by winding his queue about his neck and tightening it with his hands.

The Daily Anion Vedette.

FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH. 3, 1865.

The Celebration.

We are glad to hear that a cordial spirit has been manifested by the city authorities in forwarding this patriotic ceremony, and that the civilians are determined not to be left behind by the military in the race of loyalty.

This is certainly a somewhat unusual than ourselves in witnessing manifestations on their part, of a spirit which shows that Mormons have an interest in the welfare of the Nation, and not in its downfall, that they consider themselves a part of the Republic, and that their hopes and fears, like our own, are bound up in its destiny. Indications are rife; that this celebration will be one of the most notable occasions, that ever transpired in Utah, and we hail its significance with delight. Really, we would not be much surprised to see Brigham Young himself joining in the procession, if all we hear is to be credited. In any event, except very bad weather, there is likely to be a large turn-out and demonstrations, that may astonish some, but nevertheless are very proper, very wise and very welcome.

A LETTER FROM WASHINGTON. - We copy the following curious letter from the London Magazine, written by Geo. Washington to his triend Dr. Cochran. Director-General of the American Military Hospitals during the war of Inde-

West Point. August 16, 1779. Dear Doctor : I have asked Mrs. Cochran and Mrs Livingston to dine with me to-morrow; but ought I not to surprise them of their fare? As I hale deception. even where imagination is concerned, I

It is needless to promise that my table is large enough to hold the ladies -- of this they had ocular proof yesterday. To say how it is usually covered, is rather more essential; and this shall be the purport of my letter.

Since my arrival at this happy spot. we had a ham, sometimes a shoulder of bacon, to grace the head of the table; a piece of roast beef adorns the foot, and a small dish of greens or beans (almost imperceptible) decorates the centre. When the cook has a mind to cut a figure, (and this, I presume, he will at-tempt to do to-morrow.) we have two beef-steak pies, or dishes of crabs, in addition; one on each side of the center-dish, dividing the space, and reducing the distance between dish and dish. to about six feet. which. without them would be nearly twelve feet apart. Of late, he has had the surprising luck to discover that apples will make pies; and it is a question if, amidst the violence of his efforts, we do not get one of apples, instead of having both of beef.

If the ladi s can put up with such en-tertainment, and submit to partake of it on plates once tin, but now ircn. (not become so by the luber of scouring) I shall be happy to see them.

I am, dear sir, Your most obedient servant. GEORGE WASHINGTON. To Dr. John Cochran

COMMUNICATED. CAMP CONNOR, U. T. February 1st, 1865.

Editor Vedette: - As I never see any correspondence in your spicy little sheet. from this out of the way place, I thought a few lines from us would be acceptable.

The weather here has been, as usual. snowing and blowing—sometimes cold-er than Siberia, the thermometer falling as low as 35° below zero Of course we could not let the 29th of January pass by without something This is certainly a somewhat unusual of a blow out. Capt. Stillman had inoccurrence in our experience here, but is none the less welcome on that account.

None could possibly be more pleased than ourselves in witnessing manifestation. but Monday opened with a strong wind. and continued all day blowing the light anow in clouds. The Captain conclu-ded to postpone all out door celebra-tion, with the exception of a salute at noon, and let the men have their dance in the evening. The men bere, with discharged soldiers sojourning in Soda City, had been making great preparations for the event, for some time before and everything promised the grandest ball of the season. We ought to have Mr. Jenkins here to give a description of it-I teel incompetent.

About dark the sleighs commenced running, and by 7 o'clock all the beauty and fashion of Soda City and Camp. to the number of thirty-eight couple, had assembled in our hall. After a Grand March and one or two dances, the assemblage was called to order, and Capt Stillman, with a few appropriate re-marks, read a part of the address delivered by Capt. Hempstead, at Camp Douglas, on the 29th of January, 1864 The order was given, by floor manager, Jerry Snell, to take partners for a cotil lion, which was obeyed with a will We amused ourselves by tripping the light fantustic toe. songs, recitations etc., until about 12 o'clock, when notice was given that supper was ready. We repaired to the Quartermaster's old repaired to the Store-room and found that, that prince of caterers. Lawrence, had not been idle, as there was all that the market aftorded to please the inner man. After doing tull justice to the viands set betore us, we again repaired to the hall, and danced "the we sma' hours agout the twae." warned us that it was time to close. Every thing passed of admira-bly; and, to our credit, be it said, that there was not a man under the influence of liquor. Nor do I believe there was any drank during the evening.

Were it not for the social re-unions we have had, the monotony of Camp Connor would be unendurable. have a dance now and then, a meeting of the Good Templars, or a sleigh ride which makes Camp life pass off more

The Good Templars have an organization here that is fighting that demon. intemperance, mantully. They are here as they always are, reclaiming the drunk ard, and making glad the hearts of wives and mothers. They have elected the following officers for the ensuing quarter:

The severity of the winter has made them desperate Those having stock running loose upon the hills should look to them.

[COMMUNICATED.]

G. S. L. CITY,

February. 25th. 1865. Editor Vedette: - It occurs to me that you might greatly extend the usefulness of your, already, valuable paper, by inserting in its columns, synopses of the sermons of Rev. Norman McLeod, as de-livered in this city. They are purely liberal, christian, and loyal dectrines that he holds forth, and would favorably impress many in this community, who are thinking for themselves. They certainly would be a fair set off to the narrow. dogmatical, and crude notions of religion and duty, as put forth in the Tabernacle sermons.

I am of the opinion. that, with this new feature, your paper would greatly extend its circulation. being more at tractive and instructive. Do you think so? I think we cannot be divi-ded in the opinion, that christian sermons, such as the Rev. gentleman de livers at Daft's Hall .- sermons intel lectual, elevating, soul stirring-ad-dressed to the head and heart, would have a good effect with this community; more indeed, than the rhapsody and balderdash you re publish, called, "Ser-mons, as delivered in the Tabernacle" These Tabernacle sermons, that you republish, have had a good effect, I am willing to admit-causing many to be ashamed of them. who are now desirous of obtaining something better. Would not sermons of the Rev. gentleman, thus published, supply a great want, and set the people to thinking on correct doctrines, who with improved ideas, will as naturally leave crude religion, as that gresses to a butterfly. The simple man-ifestation of shame at their Prophets teachings, is a favorable omen. That the Mormon religion is trashy, many who have formerly believed its dogmas have learned, and, of consequence, want something to take its place. Can you not minister to this want? Would no two or three columns a day two or three times a week, be profitably devoted to this object.

Secular papers in the East, have greatly served the interests of mankind and iberty, as well as extend their circulation, by the adoption of such a course Many of these sermons are, doubtless, es pecially adapted to the peculiar circumstances of this community, and might in tract form. afterwards be published and circulated in the country districts. where the reading of them would be sure to have a good effect. What better course could be adopted to prepare the people for the coming change that awaits them? A community or nation. is not prepared for liberty until they are enlightened and, when properly in formed, they demand it s their right. Do you think, Mr. Editor, this people would endure the galling yoke that is upon them were they properly enlight-ened? Would they be made mere tools of at elections, and prostrate the most sacred rights of American citizens, to a mere sham of religion -minister to and pamper the greed of talse prophets, if they saw through the "sell"? Verily I say unto you, nay. It appears to me Mr. Editor, that he who would benefit Utah, must enlighten the masses, instruct them in the principles of freedom and urge them to the exercise of individual rights. What say ye?

Yours, etc. We are under obligations to our intel ligent correspondent for his excellent suggestions, and shall adopt them. It is the people that we desire to reach and enlighten; to set them thinking and weighing the purposes of those, who talsely abuse their trust, to their own company, and were surrounded in inferior quality to those used in material berefit. To do this, nothing their merits with those of men whose lives, as their religion, are purer and more ennobling.

THE INDIANS .- Speaking of the present Indian raid and the consequent interruption of Overland communication, the San Jose Courier says:

There is no doubt in our mind, in fact we have positive knowledge that the Indians in that vicinity, and even further north, are tampered with and put up to these attacks. Arms and ammu-nition have been distributed among them by enemies of our Government who have formed an alliance with the various tribes in the Northwest. Montana contains the largest and most powerful tribes of Indians now upon the American continent, and no where else, outside of Rebeldom. are there to be found so many real followers of Jeff. Davis .-Gov. Edgerton has endeavored to make treaties with these tribes. but has invariably received the same opposition, and been met by the same objections. They allege there is no need to make treaties as long as there is an immediate prospect of our being overpowered, and unable to keep them. This opinion is general and extends as far north as the Blackfeet and Flathead tribes. This is a lamentable condition of affairs, but nevertheless true.-We do not believe any treaty can be made with them until by force of arms they are made to feel the strength of cur Government .-The usual method of conducting Indian warefare is to give them all the privileges of civilized nations, and this has been in a great degree the cause of our present difficulties with them. Military men have been in too many instances wholly ignorant of the Indian character, and have made sad mistakes in conducting their battles They should make all campaigns terribly in earnest and not go through the hostile country with all the paraphranalia of a pleasure excursion. It is a difficult matter for one to workhimself into the belief of exter mination as applied to any race however savage or uncivilized The idea of an indiscriminate butchery of the red men will strike the minds of many with horror, and yet a few battles fought upon this plan will effectnally stop all further need of fighting. This is the only way of bringing about a treaty that will insure safety and respect.

A GALLANT FIGHT .- The Louisville Journal tells of a gallant fight made by Captain Sam Tabour and his nephew, John, a lad of sixteen. They belonged to a Home Guard the Captain's own house by a nocould be better, than a comparison of ted guerrilla chief named Pratt, with his desperadoes, all armed to the teeth. Knowing that sur render would be certain death, they determined to sell their lives dearly:

They refused to give themselves up, and a fight at once ensued. Young Tabour fired the first shot, shooting one of the outlaws him; and during his whole three through the heart. The remaining three halted about two handred and fifty yards from the house, and one of them was in the act of firing when the boy took quick aim and shot the gun, a Spencer rifle, from the hand of the outlaw. This closed the fight. Captain Tabour arriv. ed in the city, and presenting himself before Colonel Farleigh, made the following report: "Col., we have some captured property to account for. We have three dead men and one wounded, a prisoner. We have three live horses and a dead one; three Enfield rifles, one carbine, and four saddles. What must we do with them?" Such are the spoils of the victory. We will wager that a more gallant little fight has not occurred during the war, Pratt was one of the most desperate outlaws of the State, and his followers were noted for their blood-thirstiness and daring.

BORING ROCKS WITH DIAMONDS .-A tool was patented at Washington about a year ago, and noticed at the time, for boring rocks with a cutting edge made of diamonds. The invention was generally considered an impract cable idea, and little was said or perhaps thought about it by any person except the inventor. The American Artizan, however, says that the tool has been put to actual and successful practice in boring for oil wells in Pennsylvania. It consists of a tubular stock of steel, having attached to it cutters composed of diamonds. It makes an annular cut, leaving a solid cone of rock in the center of the cut. The editor of the Artizan has seen a cone three and a half feet in diameter, taken from a four and a half inch bore, though some of the hardest rocks in Oil creek, (Pa) Eighteen inches are said to have been bored through this rock in twenty minutes, when an ordinary drill would not have cut two inches in twenty-four hours! It is said that a well which ordinarily requires six months to sink, may be bored with this fool in one week. A further important advantage which may be derived from this drill is, that it will bore out broken drills. Many wells when nearly completed have been necessarily abandoned from the breaking of the tool in such a manner as to defy the ordinary means of extraction. We are without any information with regard to the cost and wear of the tool in the operation; the paper from which we derive these facts, merely informing us that "the diamonds of which the cutting edges are formed are of an

CELEBRATION .- We are gratified to find that on Saturday next. the 4th of March 1865, the whole loyal people of Utah are to join in the "grand turn out" and procession, in honor of the second inauguration of our most noble, honorable and tried President.

It is a day for double rejoicing. The victories which have been so recently, and triumphantly achieved by the Unior armies, and the security of an honest, devoted Chief Mag:strate of our Nation for another four years, should he live. Let all participate in the ceremonies of the coming day, in a manner commensurate with the occasion which demands it. May the Merchants, Bankers, and business men in general, sus pend all business and engage in the honors.

THE weather in Utah is, to say the least, severe and of long duration, so far as the cold and snow is concerned. The month of March has come in with the rage of the Lion. The snow is some twelve inches deep; the days are alternately freezing and thawing, and the nights never fail of freezing and blow ing everybody and everything. It is the most bitter cold winter we have ever experienced since we emigrated from the

The Second Regiment of Cavalry is now complete, with its full complement of officers and men. The Head-Quar ters of the regiment are at Camp Union. Sacramento--Col. Edw. McGarry, commanding.

FROZEN FEET.-We understand that the Soldier whose feet were frozen so badly, will recover, without the aid of the surgeon's knife, or the amputation of his toes

MRS. PARTINGTON HEARS FROM ISAAC .-- Mrs. Partington thus discourses concerning her hopeful son Ike, who, it seems, has gone to the front. Says the dame : "Betsy Jane writ to you about poor Isaac bein' grafted into our noble army; it was during the late prevailing restriction. I've been so dreadful uneasy-laws a me! But at last we've heard from him by a neighbor who is home on a furrow. He-poor innocent- at onc't took his place, so neighbor Tibbins says, as First Corpulent, and soon proved so deficient that he was promoted to be an Ordinary Surgeon-poor child! But what the blessed dear knows about taking up arterials, computations of lims, and the like, surpasses me. Howsumever, if he can be the humble implement in the hands of the Lord of saving the lives of the gallus fellows whose heads have been disseminated by the bursting open of pontoons and other things, why we must sacrifice him freely on the altar of eplurisy uniform, and may the Lord have mercy on his solar system."

A BATHING WOMAN .- Five shillings; being the proceeds, less deduction for necessary expenses, of the produce of a gold watch found in a bathing machine, and which watch the lady who assert ed that she had lost it failed to describe with the perfect accuracy necessary to satisfy the finder's conscience that it would be right to give up the article.

A STUDENT .- An old five-pound note, found in a copy of the Whole Duty of Man, which he procused at a book-stall, and would have paid for, but that the old lady proprietor was not looking his way.

JEFF. TAKES TO PRAYING - IT seems that the chief conspirator is losing confidence in saftpeter, and is about to invoke a new clement to his aid. He has appointed Friday, the 10th of March, as a day of public "fasting, humiliation, prayer and thanksgiving," and earnestly invites his friends to observe the same. There is evidently no necessity for his setting apart any particular day for humiliation and fasting, for all days in the week seem to answer that purpose very well with the confederates. And as to praying, we doubt very much whether the rebels can bring influence enough to bear on the Almighty, at this stage of the game, to induce Him to change his purposes, and evident intentions to scourge the traitors back into the Union, or mete out to them unqualified annihilation. We advise Jeff to resort to some other expedient, if he would retrieve his waning fortunes. Probably he does not consider that in the matter of a contest of prayer with the loyal, determined North, he will of necessity come off second best .-We can certainly pray as earnes! ly as he can; besides, we have the heaviest cannon and most men on our side —San Jose Mer-

MEASURING THE WEATHER. - A Frenchman named Morin, has invented a new barometrograph, consisting of three parts-a clock, a barometer and an electrical apparatus. The clock, while it marks time, also causes a cylinder to turn round once in twenty four hours, its surface receiving the marks of a style connected both with the barometer and the electric apparatus, and balanced by the weight of a rack attached to a string passing over a pully Every quarter of an hour this rack is raised by the machinery, the style descends to the surface of the mercury, and thereby establishes a complete electrical circuit, which immediately magnetizes a horseshoe magnet, and causes the style to make a mark on the cylender.

COUNTY .- The Los Angeles News says:

Daniel Sexton, of San Gabriel, has invented (and patents have been issued) three useful articles. The firs: is a double-piston steam engine, that does away with back action or pressure. The second is a cylindrical bellows, or air-exhauster, for racking off wines and liquors, which is a most complete and ingenious affair. The third is a faucet for boring, tapping or drawing finids, and stopping up the incisions made without losing a drop of the liquids, or receiving air into the cask or barrel. The patentees are). Sexton, F. P. F. Temple and D. F. Hall.

LIFE IN FINANCIAL EPOCHS .- HUman life has never, that I am aware of been apportioned into such epochs, but it might very well be divided into, first, the period at which everything is paid for one; secondly, the season when some things are paid for one, and not others; thirdly that evil stage in life when we have to pay for everything ourselves; and finally, that terrible era when we begin to defray the charges of other people - Chamber's Journal

THE total loss of life in 1864, on the Northwestern Lakes, was 133; in 1863, 138; in 1864, 154.
